

Serial No. 09/934,967

Amendments to the Claims

---

Claim 1 (currently amended)

A golf putter with a clubhead comprising a body having an upstanding striking face, a back side of said striking face, a shaft attachment surface, and a generally horizontal soleplate extending rearwardly of said striking face:

the improvement thereon comprising a weight member support extending generally perpendicularly with respect to the center of the striking face from the back side of said striking face and an elongated weight member secured to said support and centered thereon, said weight member being supported substantially above the level of said soleplate, and extending generally laterally with respect to said striking face and being unsupported at its ends.

Claim 2 (currently amended)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 1 wherein said weight member support and weight member together are generally T-shaped.

Claim 3 (original)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 1 wherein the length of said weight member is approximately half the length of said striking face.

Serial No. 09/934,967

Claim 4 (original)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 1 wherein said weight member is generally cylindrical.

Claim 5 (currently amended)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 1 wherein said support is of such length that said weight member is displaced rearwardly from said striking face by an amount greater than the width of said soleplate.

Claim 6 (currently amended)

A golf putter in accordance with claim 1 wherein said weight member is positioned by said weight member support above and to the rear of the top surface of said striking surface portion.

Claim 7 (original)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 1 wherein said body includes a bore through the center of said striking face and one end of said support is secured in said bore.

Serial No. 09/934,967

Claim 8 (withdrawn)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 1 wherein said clubhead includes a chamber therein and a separate striking face member secured to said clubhead such that it closes said chamber, said support is secured to said striking face member and extends into said chamber, and said weight member is secured to said support.

Claim 9 (original)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 5 wherein said striking face member includes a bore through its center and one end of said support is secured in said bore in a position to contact a golf ball when the ball is struck generally at the center of said striking surface.

Claim 10 (currently amended)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 1 ~~wherein said striking face includes a top surface and a back surface extending from said soleplate to the top surface of said striking face and~~ wherein said weight member support extends from the shaft attachment surface ~~top of said back side of said striking face.~~

Claim 11 (cancelled)

Serial No. 09/934,967

Claim 12 (withdrawn)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 1 wherein said support is secured to said soleplate.

Claim 13 (cancelled)

Claim 14 (currently amended)

A golf putter having a clubhead with an upstanding striking face, a generally horizontal soleplate, a rear face, a shaft, and means for attaching said clubhead to said shaft;

a single support spaced from said soleplate extending perpendicularly from said rear face and centered thereon and spaced from above said soleplate, and an elongated weight member secured to said support and centered thereon, said weight member extending generally laterally from said support and being unsupported at its ends.

Claim 15 (original)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 14 wherein said support and weight members are formed integrally with said clubhead.

Serial No. 09/934,967

Claim 16 (withdrawn)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 14 wherein said clubhead further comprises a separate striking face member secured to said clubhead, said clubhead includes a chamber behind said striking face member, said support is secured to the center of said striking face member and extends into said chamber, and said weight member is secured to said support inside of said chamber.

Claim 17 (previously presented)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 14 wherein said weight member is formed of material having substantially greater density than the material of which the remainder of said clubhead is formed.

Claim 18 (previously presented)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 14 wherein said striking face member includes a bore therethrough and one end of said support is secured in said bore and exposed at said striking face.

Claim 19 (withdrawn)

A golf putter in accordance with claim 16 wherein the chamber defined by said chamber is elongated horizontally and said weight member is horizontally elongated within said chamber.

Serial No. 09/934,967

Claim 20 (currently amended)

A golf putter for striking a ball having a shaft, a clubhead with a striking face portion, a soleplate, and a hosel for attaching said clubhead to said shaft, said clubhead including rearwardly extending weighted portions at the toe and heel of said clubhead, and a recessed section at the back side of said clubhead not including said soleplate or said weighted portions, the improvement thereon comprising:

a single support shaft extending perpendicularly rearwardly from said recessed section and centered on the rear side of said striking face portion; and an elongated weight member secured to said support shaft and centered thereon, said weight member extending generally parallel to said striking face portion and unsupported at its ends, whereby an impact with a ball which is displaced from the center of said striking face portion creates a moment arm tending to turn the clubface which is substantially compensated by the inertia of the unsupported end of the weight member on the side of the impact.

Claim 21 (original)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 20 wherein said striking face portion includes a top surface and a rear surface, and said support extends from the top of said rear surface of said striking face portion.

Serial No. 09/934,967

Claim 22 (original)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 20 wherein said clubhead striking surface portion includes a bore extending therethrough and said support is secured into said bore and exposed to said striking surface.

Claim 23 (cancelled)

Claim 24 (previously presented)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 1 wherein said support shaft and weight member are formed integrally with said clubhead.

Claim 25 (withdrawn)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 16 wherein the length of said weight member is approximately half the length of said striking face.

Claim 26 (original)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 20 wherein said weight member is generally cylindrical.

Serial No. 09/934,967

Claim 27 (previously presented)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 20 wherein said support shaft is of such length that said weight member is displaced rearwardly from said striking face by an amount greater than the width of said soleplate.

Claims 28 (withdrawn)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 14 wherein said clubhead includes a cavity behind said striking face open toward the rear of said clubhead, and said weight member is spaced from the bottom and sides of said cavity such that it is unsupported at its ends.

Claim 29 (withdrawn)

A golf putter having a clubhead with an upstanding striking face, a rear face, a shaft, and means for attaching said shaft to said clubhead;

a cavity in said rear face having a bottom and a sidewall;

a support member secured to said clubhead and extending into said cavity;

a weight member in said cavity secured to said support member and spaced from said bottom and sidewall of said cavity.

Serial No. 09/934,967

Claim 30 (withdrawn)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 29 wherein said weight member has a rear side and said rear side is substantially flush with the rear face of said clubhead.

Claim 31 (withdrawn)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 29 wherein said support member includes a collar which abuts against the bottom of said cavity and said weight member to space said weight member from said bottom.

Claim 32 (withdrawn)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 29 wherein said sidewall of said cavity defines an area slightly larger than the area of the rear side of said weight member.

Claim 33 (currently amended)

A golf putter with a clubhead comprising a body having a striking face, a back side of said striking face, and a generally horizontal soleplate, the improvement thereon comprising:

a support ~~vertically~~ spaced above ~~from~~ said soleplate extending rearwardly with respect to the striking face from said ~~the~~ back side of said striking face and centered thereon and an elongated weight member attached at its center to said support with said weight member being evenly balanced on opposite sides of its attachment to said support, said weight member being unsupported at its ends;

said sole plate extending rearwardly from said striking face further than said back side of said striking face.

Claim 34 (original)

A golf putter as claimed in claim 33 wherein said support extends generally parallel to said soleplate.

Claim 35 (cancelled)
